

Autism and mental health

1

Around 80% of autistic adults in the UK experience mental health issues during their lives

2

Just 21% of autistic adults said they were able to access counselling services

3

91% of autistic adults in a survey told us their sensory needs in inpatient wards weren't being met

4

32% of autistic adults said they felt mental health professionals had a good understanding of autism